Mayor Hunts New Safety Director

'Have Man In Mind,' He Says

Morgan Resigns After 15 Months

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn today was hunting the third service-safety director in his 27-month term as mayor. He said he "had a man in mind" but declined to divulge his identity.

E. L. Morgan, director for the last 15 months, resigned today, effective May 8. He will become general manager of the Culligan Soft Water Service succeeding Harry J. Hollingsworth.

Hollingsworth, councilman at large, will return May 1 to the sales department of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, where he was employed for 19 years before taking the managership of Culligan.

Morgan

"It is only because of the increased security and other benefits for my family and myself that I am resigning this position to take another one in the City of Mansfield," Morgan wrote in his resignation to the Mayor.

"I wish to thank you (the mayor) and all of the individuals connected with city hall for the opportunity of serving in this capacity.

"If, at any future date I may be of service to you or to the City of Mansfield, please do not hesitate to call upon me."

Morgan drew $4,000 a year as service-safety director. He succeeded William W. Enlow on Feb. 1, 1947.

TO CONSULT GOP CHIEFS

Ralph Hardy, Richland county Republican executive chairman, said he expected the mayor to confer with James Will and himself on a new appointment for the job. Will is GOP central committee chairman.

Hollingsworth, who named Morgan to succeed him at Culligan, said he would continue as president of the water softening company and as a director of the firm.

Morgan, 33, is one of the two youngest service safety directors the city has had. Enlow was 33 when he resigned the position.

Until he accepted the directorship early last year, Morgan was agent for the Cushman Motor Delivery company here. He was employed in the traffic department of the Republic Steel company of Cleveland following his discharge after three years with the naval air force.

Married and the father of three daughters, Morgan resides at 460 Woodward avenue.

N-J Drivers Win Award

Circulation route drivers for the News-Journal circulation department today were declared second place winners in the American Newspaper Publishers' association seventh annual safe-driving contest.

Operating their automobiles and trucks 240,000 miles last year without a single reportable accident, the News-Journal drivers ranked second in the nation to the Port Huron, Mich., Times Herald, which operated cars and trucks 335,000 miles without a reportable accident.

The News-Journal drivers drove their cars and trucks every day of the year, through ice, snow, sleet and rain delivering bundles of newspapers to their appointed stops in Richland and six nearby counties. The News-Journal competed in class B of the contest, for newspapers with circulation of 20,000 to 50,000.

A total of 394 newspapers, which last year operated 4,533 vehicles a total of 91,382,727 miles, competed in the contest, according to the award announcement made at the ANPA convention in New York.

Ohio Bonus Checks Due

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The first Ohio soldier bonus checks will go into the mails April 28, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert announced today.

Checks aggregating $646,157 will be mailed to 1930 veterans of World War II in 15 counties. Of them, 1,724 for $584,537 will go to army veterans and 206 for $61,620 to navy veterans.

The checks will average $334 each.

Thereafter, checks will be mailed daily as the World War II compensation fund processes the applications from Ohio's 800,000 former service men and women.

Bonds totaling $201,000,000, issued by the state to obtain the major portion of the money for paying the bonuses, were to be delivered today to the National City bank at New York. The bank heads a syndicate which will market the bonds.

State Chairman Albert Horstman expected more than 400 party leaders to attend the $25-a-plate affair. U. S. Sen. Brien McMahon (D-Conn) will be the main speaker and Judge Thomas Morrow of Cincinnati the toastmaster.

Baseball Gambling Blossoms

Pool Tickets Add To Counter Graft

Opening of the major league baseball season has added another lush source of income to the already booming over-the-counter open gambling business in Mansfield.

Baseball gambling tickets—10, 25 and 50-cent varieties—now are competing with punchboards, "tip" boards and poker sheets for suckers' money.

In more than a score of downtown newsstands, pool halls and similar establishments the chiseling rackets flourish openly while policemen stick strictly to traffic direction, parking meter checking and their other duties—except of course that of enforcing anti-gambling laws.

NUMBERS REPORTED BACK

Numbers rackets also are reported back in operation, leaving only the horse racing establishment and "large-scale card and dice games on the list of "banned" activities for the easy money, don't-work-if-you-don't-have-to fraternity.

The horse race bet booking and "big stake" games are all that remain "out" after Police Chief Jesse Schwab's "permanent" ban on gambling which the chief imposed with much fanfare last Feb. 1. The "permanent" ban lasted for eight weeks, before the sucker money games began to reappear.

There were indications, however, that within a short time even the "big time" will be back in business.

LOSES $46 ON 'BOARD'

But the punchboard operations are no "chicken feed" business.

A prime example of the speed and thoroughness with which 25-cent punchboards can separate a fool from his money was observed at one racket counter on two successive days.

There a punchboard customer was seen to donate $11 to a punchboard operator on one day and $35 on the next day, apparently in a vain effort to "hit" and recoup his losses.

Break Causes Orange Water

That orange colored water Mansfielders saw coming out of their faucets last night cleared today after city workmen found the trouble.

Service-Safety Director E. L. Morgan said iron deposits in the lines were stirred up by a break in a recently built fire line at Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. A contributing factor to discoloration of the water was the installation of a new eight-inch line of Abbeyfeale road.

B. V. BeVier, sanitary engineer, said he expected the rust to settle by this afternoon. The break has been repaired at Mansfield Tire, he said.

Fifty Years Ago Today

Spanish Vets Recall 'M-Day' Excitement

Fifty years ago today excitement ran high in Mansfield. The national guard was being mustered into the regular Army. For it was on April 21, 1898, that the United States broke diplomatic relations with Spain. Four days later war was declared and the Spanish-American war began.

Mansfield residents who served in that war can still recall the surging crowds, the flying flags, and the long lines outside recruiting offices

Charles Hall, commander of the Veterans of the Spanish-American War, was one of the National Guardsmen called to service.

"It was customary to ring the fire bell 15 short times to assemble the company at the armory. On April 21, 1898, those 15 bells called our company to the armory," he recalls.

"By the time we got to Reed's corner there was a solid mass of people down to Fourth street. We had to push our way through to the armory which was then on the third floor of a building at Third and Main streets.

'TAKE OVER, BOYS'

"Cafes threw their doors open, dismissed their customers, and told us to take over."

Twelve companies of 107 men each served in the war from this area.

Charles Young, 468 North Mulberry street, served in Cuba until November. After the war, he returned to his blacksmithing trade. Ten years later he and his brother began operating a cigar store Young is retired now.

F. A. Schlemmer, 669 McPherson street, enlisted at Canton on the day war broke out. A molder before and after the war, he retired in 1942.

John Schnorr enlisted in Sandusky and served in Cuba for 13 months. He retired four years ago from the Mansfield fire department.

The Veterans of the Spanish-American War are celebrating tonight at the Memorial building. The program will begin with dinner at 6.30.

A roll call of the members of Charles Dick Camp will be taken. The veterans will repeat the oath they took upon entering the service and give the pledge to the flag.

Kenneth Dirlam will deliver "The Message to Garcia."

Trusteeship Plan Losing

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Opposition from big and small powers threatened today to kill the United States trusteeship plan for Palestine in its infancy.

Resistance piled up from usually friendly nations as well as from Russia and the handful of Soviet bloc countries in the United Nations general assembly.

Fresh opposition was likely to come from some Latin American states as the assembly political and security committee convened for another tangle with the Palestine dilemma.

Great Britain and France, who have refused privately to provide armed forces for the U.S trusteeship project, were scheduled to throw light on their positions also

Italian Red-Front Dissolving

Socialists Seek To Unite Party

ROME—(AP)—First signs of possible disintegration of the communist-dominated popular front appeared today as Italian election returns strengthened the already dominant position of anti-communist forces.

Guiseppe Romita, former minister of the interior, and until now an ally of the fellow-traveling Socialist parties, handed to newspapers copies of a letter he wrote party members inviting them to a meeting to take steps to "regain the independence" of the Socialist party.

He said he wrote the letter Monday before returns started coming in. Five other Socialist leaders signed the letter with him.

The Socialists split in Italy and part joined the popular front and part went along with Premier Alcide de Gasperi in his middle-of-the-road government.

Final returns from the senate election Sunday and Monday, issued this morning by the interior ministry, showed the Christian Democrats had won 47.9 per cent of the total vote in contests for 237 seats at stake. That compared with 35.2 per cent they got in the last elections in 1946

The popular front got 31 per cent, down from the 39.7 per cent the communists and pro-communist socialists got in 1946.

Two Held as Baby Sellers

'Good Samaritan' Denies Wrongdoing

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — (U.P.) — Two middle-aged women were held by police as "baby brokers" today after three unmarried girls admitted selling their children at prices up to $1,000.

Church worker Mrs. Marie Chaplin, 51, the alleged ringleader, denied she was anything but a "good Samaritan."

She told police she was doing her Christian duty in caring for unmarried girls and introducing them to childless couples. Her second cousin, Mrs. Ida Drucker, 53, also was arrested on the charge of selling human beings.

District Attorney William E Simpson said that after three months spent investigating the baby market they had traced the sale of six babies and were on the trail of dozens more.

His assistant, John Barnes, said the persons who purchased the children would be permitted to keep them if they start adoption proceedings. They all insist they will, he said

Simpson said the baby ring operated in cooperation with a social worker who supplied the names of unmarried mothers who might sell their children. He said Mrs. Chaplin offered a standing $10 commission per name.

The two women cared for the mothers-to-be before the births and paid the hospital expenses. The girls registered under the names of the prospective foster mothers so the birth certificates would be made out to the "buyer."

Flood Dangers Dwindling Fast

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Flood dangers dwindling fast, the falling Ohio river dropped under the 60-foot stage early today and the weather bureau predicted it would be down to 57.5 feet by evening.

The central bridge connecting Cincinnati with Newport, Ky., opened yesterday and Highway Department Superintendent Charles E. Brokaw said the Beechmont levee road would be open today. The road connects Cincinnati with its Beechmont and Mt. Washington suburbs.

Reuther Escapes Death

BULLETIN

DETROIT — (U.P.) — Rewards totaling $110,500 were posted today for the arrest and conviction of the would-be assassin of Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers union.

DETROIT—(AP)—The CIO's Walter P. Reuther escaped death at a gunman's hand last night.

A mysterious assailant, creeping to a lighted kitchen window of the auto unionist's home, fired a shotgun blast at Reuther, inflicting serious arm and chest wounds.

Today, as doctors reported Reuther out of danger, a battery of Detroit's police and top detectives followed slim clues in a hunt for one or two men in the assault.

REUTHER

For a time it was feared that Reuther, fiery president of the CIO's United Auto Workers, might lose his right arm.

Reuther himself, according to Prosecutor James N. McNally, blamed "management, communists or a screwball."

The 40-year-old red-haired, aggressive UAW leader has long been an avowed foe of communism.

Currently his big auto union, which speaks for nearly 1,000,000 workers of the car plants, is pressing its new spring wage increase demand on the industry.

The injury to the UAW's chief left in question meanwhile the extent to which he can take part in his union's wage drive. Doctors said he would be hospitalized perhaps for weeks.

FIRED AT THROUGH WINDOW

As he stood at a refrigerator in the breakfast nook of his home on the northwest side, a blast was fired through a window four or five feet from him.

The charge struck his right arm. One slug penetrated his chest cavity, stopping near the skin surface in the stomach area.

Neighbors said they saw a man dash out of the Reuther yard and flee in a car a moment after the shot. Police reported none could tell whether a confederate drove the car.

The bone in Reuther's arm was shattered. However, Dr. Raymond A. Sokilov, Reuther's personal physician, said "we feel pretty certain he's going to have his arm."

It was the second attack on Reuther since he became prominent in organized labor. In 1938, in the course of a particularly stormy period of the UAW's history, he was beaten up by two men

Men Told By Lewis To Work

Civil Contempt Action Pending

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (AP) Coal operators today asked for a court injunction to bar payment of miners' pensions under the recently arranged settlement plan.

This injunction replaces a temporary court order which John L. Lewis was found guilty of violating. It was Lewis's disregard for the temporary order which brought him a $20,000 fine personally and the United Mine Workers a $1,400,000 one yesterday for contempt.

Last night Lewis sent telegrams to all district union presidents saying it was his wish that the miners go back to work. The district presidents were passing the word along to individual miners.

Lewis still faces the possibility of further fines, or even jail, on a contempt count and has telegraphed the miners his wish that they get back to work.

Goldsborough approved the injunction on the plea of a government attorney that "the public interest remains in peril" and a strike still exists.

Lewis's lawyers fought against it with the argument there is now no strike and that the injunction, issued under the Taft-Hartley law, was unconstitutional.

CLAIM THOUSANDS IDLE

The Justice department presented coal association officials who testified that many thousands of miners were idle as late as yesterday.

Goldsborough says he thinks the government is right — that the "national peace and safety are still in peril"—and said he had "no difficulty" in deciding to issue the injunction.

The starting date and closing date for the 80 days was not immediately determined. The injunction itself bears no termination date.

A possible further major development in the whole coal situation was hinted. Ezra Van Horn, who represented mine operators in long negotiations with Lewis over miners' pensions, called a news conference for this afternoon.

Van Horn did not say what he had to announce. But some mine operators are reported to favor a court challenge of the pension agreement Lewis and Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) announced last week. This provides $100-a-month pensions for miners aged 62 with 20 years service.

Some operators take the view that it illegally provides pensions for miners who worked in mines not contributing to a pension and welfare fund.

Van Horn was aganst the plan as a trustee of the fund. But he was outvoted by Lewis and Bridges, other trustees.

Taft Defends Labor Law

ASHTABULA—(U.P.)—Sen Robert A. Taft vigorously defended the Taft-Hartley bill here today as he opened a two-week last ditch campaign designed to lure the liberal vote away from Harold E. Stassen.

Taft, speaking before 200 persons at a breakfast meeting, said the fundamental issue in the United States and throughout the world was whether the government would have complete control over the lives of citizens.

The senator berated Stassen, ex-governor of Minnesota, who is seeking Ohio delegates to the Republican National convention, for his claims to liberalism.

Taft championed the labor law passed by Congress as a "bill which took union members out from under the thumbs of union leaders." He said that "to a large extent, this bill is a restoration of rights to union members."

The bill does not prohibit strikes but does impose responsibility upon unions equal to their power, Taft said.

MRS. HELEN GARTSIDE HINES

'American Mother of Year' Named

Home Astir With Activity

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(U.P.)—A small, white shingle bungalow on the outskirts of town was teeming with activity today.

For inside, a queenly woman of 61 was receiving congratulations from the nation, her husband, and her 10 children for having been named "American mother of the year" yesterday.

Mrs. Helen Gartside Hines, a runner-up for the honor in 1946, took the congratulation calmly, sandwiching the reporters, the newsreel men, her friends, and the "thousand-and-one" telephone calls into her regular duties as a housewife and mother.

The newlycrowned "Mother of the year" was chosen by the Golden Rule foundation from 51 candidates, one from each of the states and three "extras." Mrs. Hines was one of the extra candidates.

Of the eight boys and two girls who are ready to vote for their mother this year or any year, only the oldest, Herbert Jr., remains at home

He is president of the Hines school of business at Springfield. The others have gone into such varied fields as nursing, construction, engineering, music and chemistry.

Her husband, Herbert, is director of the Institute of International Understanding for Rotary International. Together they will fly to New York City May 7 to be honored by the foundation.

King Ibn Saud Backs Development Of U. S. Farm Methods In Arabia

NEW YORK—(AP)—King Ibn Saud of Arabia has become an American watermelon fan.

"He really goes for them," said Texas-born Kenneth J. Edwards, director of the Saudi Arabian agricultural program.

"All he ever had before were native watermelons, which look more like gourds than watermelons.

"Now he's anxious to get some big American chickens and big eggs, too."

Chances are he'll get them soon. Edwards has just recruited 22 Texas farm experts to organize a long term program to develop Arabia's agricultural resources.

The program, financed by royalties from the Arabian American Oil company, was decided upon by the king after Edwards and five other Texas farm men successfully developed a 3,000-acre project at Al Kharj, where Ibn Saud has a summer palace.

"We introduced American varieties of watermelon, tomatoes, eggplant, carrots, onions, pumpkins and squash," Edwards said. "They'd never seen anything like them over there.

"The produce was divided by the king and Amir Saud, the crown prince."

The king got two-thirds—but he feeds a lot of people. He has a court retinue of more than 2,000, including a lot of hungry relatives and desert ward heelers.

Edwards hopes that eventually Arabia, which now has to import 75 per cent of its food, will become almost entirely self-sustaining.

"It's a big country—four times bigger than Texas itself," he said with a note of awe that anything could be that large. "But only about five per cent of its 1,200,000 square miles is tillable.

"By using better seed, some insecticides, fertilizers, fungicides, a small amount of machinery and only a little more water, we believe we can increase production 50 to 100 per cent.

"But we can't do it all for them. Our program is to teach them better methods for using the land—to help them to help themselves."

The next step will be to develop four more large model farms throughout Arabia similar to the Al Kharj project. Committees of Arab farmers helped pick the sites. At first they asked Edwards suspiciously:

"Is this just for a few pets of the government, or is it for all?"

★

He said that now, convinced American farming methods will help make the desert bloom, the old farmers are asking:

"Why didn't the king set up this program before?"

One reason was that before Ibn Saud peddled his oil concessions the country's income depended chiefly on fees collected from religious pilgrims from other Arab lands.

"These people have had a long contest with nature even to exist," said Edwards. "That explains some of their characteristics."

Greer Plea Changed To Guilty

Murder Trial Set For Next Week

Clarence Greer, 31, accused of first-degree murder, changed his plea to guilty today, and his trial was set for 9:30 a. m. next Wednesday.

Greer, charged with the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 33, tenants in his East Fourth street house, last Feb. 9, waived trial by jury. His case will be heard by three judges, still to be assigned.

C. A. McKinley, common pleas court assignment clerk, said the change of pleas made it unnecessary for prospective jurors to report for the trial which had been scheduled to open tomorrow.

Greer was examined yesterday by Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State hospital, who found he is sane but "mentally subnormal."

Before Greer's changed plea was accepted today, Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch explained first degree murder "is a crime for which the death penalty can be pronounced, or if there is a recommendation of mercy, then life imprisonment would be the sentence.

"I want you to understand that," Judge Kalbfleisch said. "Do you want to plead guilty and be tried by three judges?"

Greer replied, "Yes sir."

Greer was represented by Attorneys Jacob Wagenhals and H. Eugene Ryan. The state was represented by Prosecutor Theodore Lutz and Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Ross.

Builder Named In Action

Charges Firm Failed to Sign

The Mansfield board of education today sued the Mastran Construction company, Inc., Youngstown, for $31,653 in damages, alleging the contractor refused to enter into a contract to build the West Fifth street school. The Youngstown firm was low bidder on the project which was offered for sale last year.

The board brought a second action against the firm's surety company, the Continental Casualty company, asking $17,500. The firm had provided the bond when the construction company submitted its bid. Both suits were filed in Richland County common pleas court.

The $31,653 action states the Mastran company was low bidder, with an offer of $334,332.

The board added that it received a bidder's bond of $17,500, with the Mastran company as principal and the Continental company as surety.

BREACH CHARGED

The petition added the Mastran company refused to sign the contract and failed to comply with the conditions of the obligations of the bond, filed on July 19, 1947.

The board clerk was authorized to request the Mastran company to enter into the contract before Sept. 2, 1947, in accordance with its bid, but refused to enter into the contract, the petition states.

It added that the board had to re-advertise for bids and awarded the contract to the Mountaineer Engineering company of Pittsburgh, on its low bid of $364,485.

It says the bid was for the same work and furnishing of materials and labor and for the same plans and specifications as those bid on by Mastran.

The board says it was damaged in the amount of $30,153, difference in the two company's bids, plus the additional costs of re-advertising for bids and furnishing of a bond for $1,500, or a total damage loss of $31,653.

The board asks that sum from the Mastran company, plus costs of the suit.

The boards asks a judgment of $17,500 from the Continental Casualty company, the amount of its bond.

Representing the board are City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch and Attorney C. H. Henkel.

Light Frost Called Likely

Temperature Drops From High of 75

Chilly weather returned to Mansfield today, bringing a threat of light frost tonight.

From a Tuesday high temperature of 75 degrees, the mercury skidded to a low this morning of 38. By noon it had climbed only one degree to a "warm" 39.

Furnace fires that had been permitted to go out were rekindled. Other residents resorted to gas heaters to remove the chill from homes.

Cleveland's weather forecaster, Milton Davis, said light scattered frost throughout the state was probable tonight. It was not expected to be heavy enough to cause great damage to fruit trees just coming into bloom.

Davis added that cool north winds would continue to blow through tomorrow with the mercury climbing back to near-normal readings by Friday.

Clear skies were promised for tomorrow.

5 'Preachers' Kids' Among Graduates

By NITA BRANSON

This year's graduating class of 379 pupils at Mansfield Senior high school includes five "preachers' kids."

It's probably the largest group of graduates to come from ministerial homes in the city in the history of Senior high school.

The pastors' daughters and sons are Vera Saleste, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Saleste; Patricia Lindbeck, daughter of Rev and Mrs. Arthur F. Lindbeck; Jane Ann Stoneburner, whose parents are Rev and Mrs. Charles W. Stoneburner; Marilyn Stull, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Stull, missionary; and Jim Melchert, son of Rev. and Mrs J. C. Melchert.

All of the five intend to go to college next fall. Jim is planning to be a missionary and Marilyn Stull would like nothing better than to follow in the footsteps of her mother, whose husband was the late Rev. Roscoe Stull. Both were missionaries to Peru.

Jim wants to go to Princeton and Marilyn to Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill. Vera, whose extra-curricular enthusiasm during high school days has been music, expects to continue her music studies at Ashland college. She has been a member of the choir and other musical organizations at Senior high.

Patricia has a yen for social work.

"I think I want to work for the YW or Red Cross," she said, adding that she plans to go to Wooster college.

PLANS INDEFINITE

"Whatever ability I have to speak and write is the thing I want to make the most of," Jane Ann said. "But I'm not sure just what that will be. I'm going to Ohio Wesleyan and maybe I'll find out there."

Asked if coming from ministerial homes placed any restrictions on their good times, the five answered an emphatic "No."

"How do you feel about movies? Or about dancing, for instance?" they were asked.

Well, it's like this about movies," Jim said. "When I was small Dad suggested what movies to see and the ones not to see, but now that I'm older he thinks I have judgment enough to pick the right ones."

The senior all-night party planned for May 28 was mentioned.

"How about that?" they were asked.

"I'm just going to the dinner," Marilyn answered. "Mother says I can do as I please about dancing and movies, but our church doesn't approve of either and I just don't like to do them."

The others said they thought they would go.

But none of them presents a look of inhibited inclinations. They're a happy group of youngsters.

Club Told of Truckers' Efforts To Promote Safety on Highway

Ohio union truck drivers and fleet operators are taking the lead in definite cooperative action to make highways safer, D. H Gilhousen, director of personnel for the Norwalk Truck Lines, told Mansfield Exchange club members yesterday.

"For the first time in this country, so far as I know, a commercial drivers' union, the Ohio Drivers' council, has voted to join the truck operators in a safety campaign," Gilhousen said

A mobile testing unit is to be acquired which will tour Ohio highways, spot checking commercial vehicle drivers for safety at all times.

"This campaign is in line with what will be a notable increase in the promotion of highway safety on the part of truck drivers sponsored by the American Trucking association with headquarters in Washington, D. C., Gilhousen said.

"At a recent meeting of the association it was determined to break this matter of safety down to the local level and to exert more pressure on commercial vehicle operators in each state. The cooperation between union and management in Ohio is our answer locally.

"When one realizes that there are 3,800,000 commercial vehicle drivers in the United States, more than two and one half times the number of railroad employes, and that more than 50,000 communities in the United States have no other means of service than trucks, the importance of trucking safety becomes apparent.

"With our 1948 slogan 'Safety is No Accident,' safety programs, safe driving awards, and all other possible means of public relations, we are moving forward toward safer driving.

With the help of education in the schools for safe drivers, and better engineering of our highways we can go much further," Gilhousen concluded.

Feller Blanks Browns With Two Hits, 4-0

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

CLEVELAND — Barnum Bill Veeck and his Cleveland Indians put on quite a show in yesterday's opener in the huge lakefront stadium and the fans loved it. . . . Fireworks, floral horseshoes, bands, and a bit of a vaudeville routine livened the pre-game festivities. . . . Tommy Flynn, the Cleveland Browns' midget mascot, joined in the proceedings at home plate before the game. . . . He picked up one of the umpires in a fireman's carry and both sprawled on the ground much to the delight of the fans. . . . Then during the contest, two small strolling bands played in the stands. . . . Veeck was swamped by autograph seekers after the game. . . . He scribbled his moniker on score cards and such for a half-hour after the teams headed for the showers.

BETWEEN AUTOGRAPH jobs, Veeck invited all the youngsters who will compete in the Mansfield Hot Stove baseball leagues this summer to one of the Tribe home games. . . . Veeck also promised to send Mel Harder, Tribe coach, down to one of the Mansfield Hot Stove meetings. . . . Veeck, himself, would like to come but is booked solidly until the end of July. . . . He has so many speaking engagement requests, he can fill only one of eight.

JIM HEGAN, who was on and off the trading block all winter, kinda blocked Joe Tipton's bid for the catching job by some great stick work. . . . He clouted a home run and two singles to share honors with his batterymate — Bobby Feller. . . . Larry Doby, first Negro to perform in the American loop, had a bad case of jitters. . . . He fanned twice and hit a couple of weak grounders. . . . He dropped a fly ball in the second inning but quick fielding enabled him to pick up the ball and fire it to second in time to nip a Brownie runner and prevent an error. . . . Doby will be in the lineup again Friday when the Indians play Detroit.

CLEVELAND may be the site of the Notre-Dame-Navy football game Oct. 30 . . . The game is now scheduled for Baltimore but Capt. E. B. Taylor, Naval academy athletic director, says work on the Baltimore stadium may reduce the seating capacity too much . . . Taylor said that 10,000 to 15,000 seats may be removed during the football season. . . . If the seating capacity is not enough to accommodate the game, Navy officials will ask Notre Dame to take over arrangements for the tilt. . . . In that case, Cleveland is a possibility. . . . Gil Dodds and members of the Wheaton college track team worked out yesterday on the Mansfield Stadium field cinders. . . . The Wheaton college team is on its way to the Penn relays.

Big Crowd Turns Out For Opener

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Although the St. Louis Browns can hardly be regarded an acid test, Bob Feller apparently is on his way to one of his greatest years.

The Cleveland Indians' fireballer started out in fine fashion here yesterday, blanking the Brownies with two hits as the Indians notched a 4 to 0 triumph before 73,163—largest opening day crowd in major league history.

Rapid Robert paced himself superbly as he set the Browns down in order in five of the nine innings. Whitey Platt got the first single off Feller in the second inning, a sharp smash near the shortstop side of second base that Manager Lou Boudreau couldn't reach.

BOB FANS THREE

The Indians had cause for a little concern in the seventh when Feller was struck on the right index finger of his pitching hand by a ball pitched by a former Indian, Bryan Stephens.

The finger will be x-rayed today as a precautionary measure although Feller was able to remain in the game.

Not a Brownie reached third, while Chuck Stevens—who drew the two walks Feller allowed—advanced to second twice on infield outs.

SCORE IN FIRST

The Indians scored in the opening inning when Thurman Tucker walked, stole second and crossed the plate on Boudreau's single.

They added another tally in the second when Allie Clark, Ken Keltner and Jim Hegan singled in succession.

Hegan supplied the other two markers when he drove a homer over the right field fence in the fourth after Eddie Robinson had singled.

The Indians will be idle until Friday when they oppose Detroit in the Tigers' home opener.

Locke's 131 Tops Open Golf Field

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. —(AP)— Bobby Locke, the South African sharpshooter, held a four-stroke margin over Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., as final 36-hole firing began in the Carolinas open golf tournament here today.

Locke, defending the title he won in his first tournament appearance in this country last year, counted a 13 under par 131 at the halfway point. Yesterday he fired a 67 to go with his first day's record setting 64.

Experienced Hill Workers Feature Opening Contests

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK—(AP)—If youth must have its fling on major league pitching mounds this season, then somebody better tell the old and experienced fellows about it.

Apparently they haven't heard.

For there were six guys with a total of 69 years in major league rosters who had the big opening day program pretty much to themselves yesterday and the kids just weren't in it at all.

The veterans were Truett (Rip) Sewell, 40, of the Pirates; Emil Leonard, 38, of the Phils; Murray Dickson, 31, of the Cards; Sid Hudson, 30, of the Senators, and of course, Bob Feller, 30, of the Indians and Hal Newhouser, 27, of the Tigers.

As so often in the past, Feller, 12 years a major leaguer, was the "show stopper." Before the largest opening day crowd in major league history, 73,163, Feller pitched the Indians to a two-hit 4 to 0 victory over the Browns at Cleveland.

THREE IN NINTH

Newhouser, trying to come back after a disappointing season, pitched an eight-hit, 5 to 2 victory over the White Sox at Chicago, but victory didn't come until three successive singles, one by Hal Newhouser, put across three runs in the ninth. However, Newhouser, now in his ninth year with the Tigers, got off to a fine start a year ago also, shutting out the Browns with four hits on opening day.

Hudson, an eight-year man in big league seniority, led the revenge session in Washington in which the Senators got even with the Yankees for their humiliation before President Truman by scoring a 9 to 1 win. The Yankees got only five hits off Hudson, all singles. Washington got to Yankee starter, Ed Lopat, for five runs in the first inning, four on Tom McBride's inside-the-park homer. The Nats made 12 hits.

Lopat's defeat must have been satisfying to Feller off in Cleveland for it was Lefty Ed who beat Feller with a six-hit opening day shutout last year when he was with the White Sox.

BLANKS REDS

Dickson, a nine-year man with the Cards, pitched masterfully in the pinches, though he gave up 10 hits in a 4 to 0 triumph over Cincinnati at St. Louis. The Reds got hits in every inning but only once did they get a man to third base.

That was in the ninth when he ended the ball game by striking out Pinch Hitter Augie Galan and Frankie Baumholtz, who had touched him for four straight hits. The Cards made 11 hits, four in the third when they got three runs. Enos Slaughter's triple and a wild pitch accounted for the final tally in the seventh.

Leonard, 15 years of major league baseball on his page in the record book, cooled the hard-hitting Braves with six hits in a 3 to 1 triumph at Philadelphia. The Phils' new shortstop, Eddie Miller, hit a homer, a talent upon which he concentrates in the spring.

GRANDDADDY RIP

Sewell, granddaddy of the lot with 16 years as a major leaguer, wasn't even listed as a pitcher on the Pirate roster this year. But he came out of retirement as a coach and made Manager Bill Meyer's Pirate debut in Pittsburgh a winning one by pitching a six-hit, 3 to 2, triumph over the Cubs, then rounding out a gala day by hitting a homer. Rookie Roman Basgall also hit a Pirate homer while Phil Cavaretta's two-run homer accounted for all the Chicago scoring.

The Dodgers came from behind to top the Giants at New York, 7 to 6, on a four-run seventh inning rally. A gift double by Jackie Robinson, which fell safely when Whitey Lockman and rookie Shortstop Bobby Rhawn collided, put over two of the runs. Billy Cox hit a two-run homer for Brooklyn and Walker Cooper and Jack Lohrke each hit for the route for New York.

The Red Sox and Athletics had an open date in the American.

Xavier Team Forfeits Tilt

CEDARVILLE—(AP)—An argument over a called strike cost Xavier a baseball game yesterday by forfeit to Cedarville.

Cedarville had a 1-0 lead in the eighth inning when Umpire William Taylor called a strike against an Xavier player. Coach George Hiatt and his team protested. After listening a while, Taylor gave Xavier "60 seconds to start playing again." At the end of the minute he forfeited the game.

Mendell Beattie, Cedarville coach, said Hiatt then told him "it won't be necessary for Cedarville to come to Cincinnati to play next week."

Bellville Lads In Two Sports

BELLVILLE — Three baseball veterans and several experienced track men are among candidates working out under Coach Harry Regula in Bellville high school's two-pronged spring sports program.

A baseball schedule is being lined up by Coach Regula while the thinclads are preparing for the county track meet to be held on their home field, Saturday, May 1. The Bellville field does not have a permanent track and one will have to be improvised in time for the county meet.

Baseball lettermen are: Pitcher Jim Jatton, third baseman Bill Balliett, and Jim Gleason, an outfielder.

Ohio-Indiana Loop Choices

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Ohio-Indiana league baseball race shapes up as a six-team affair to sportswriters in the Class D circuit, which opens its season next Tuesday.

Twenty-one scribes, who expressed their opinions in a poll conducted by President Frank Colley, named the Zanesville Dodgers as their top choice with 112 points.

Close behind the defending champions, however, came Muncie, Ind., and Springfield, each with 111, Marion with 110, Newark with 105 and Richmond, Ind., with 104.

The writers had less regard for the other two league members, Portsmouth and Lima.

Senior High Opens Sked With Victory

By CHARLEY STINE

ASHLAND—Mansfield Senior high baseball fans today were anxiously awaiting their first look at the 1948 Tygers after Coach Jimmy Lymper's nine opened the season here yesterday with a 3-1 victory over Ashland. The Tygers will play their first contest before a local gathering at 4 p. m. tomorrow when they entertain Wooster on the Blue Goose diamond.

Lou Gregorio, who started and received credit for yesterday's victory, will be back on the hill against Wooster. Gregorio went five innings yesterday and only his own faulty fielding kept the game from being a shutout.

He committed two errors, one of them a wild throw on a bunt which allowed Third Baseman Watts of Ashland to score all the way from second for the A's only tally.

Observers credited Lymper's move in sending Gregorio relief in the form of Shelly Swank as being a deciding factor in the game. Both Gregorio and Ashland pitcher Dick Messner showed signs of tiring but the A's apparently had no one who they could deport to the hill.

Swank fast-balled the host team out in order for the final two innings although the A's centerfielder Glasser banged a let-up pitch for a triple in the sixth. He was thrown out on a nice relay from Corky Perrine to Charley Watts to Joe Miller as he tried to stretch the hit into a home run.

Messner's fancy curves kept the Tygers at bay during the first three innings as he set them down in order. He was solved for a run in the fourth, however, when Perrine walked and was forced at second by Watts after Swank had popped up. Messner uncorked a wild pitch and then Joe Miller banged a single into left-center field to give the locals the lead.

All the action in the big sixth inning came after two men were out and without the aid of a hit. Watts walked, and Miller was given a life when the A's catcher failed to hold onto the third strike. Don Gross slapped a grounder to second which should have been the fourth out of the inning but Keener kicked it, then heaved it over first base as both Miller and Watts romped home.

Booing Greets Decisions In Arena Fights

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cleveland battlers Jimmy Bivins and Chuck Hunter roosted on higher runs of the fistic ladder today—but some of the Arena's 12,121 fans claimed they moved up "by default."

Hunter's verdict last night over sluggin' Steve Belloise, top-ranking New York middleweight and saloon owner, was a resounding upset in the record books but it drew an equally resounding chorus of boos from the paying customers who shelled out $68,634.

Bivins and heavyweight Pat Valentino of San Francisco helped clear the area rapidly in the finale as the Cleveland scrapper waltzed along his "comeback" trail with a split decision victory. It was the sixth straight win in the last year for Bivins.

In another punch-packed 10-rounder, Buddy Garcia, 139, of Galveston, Tex., won a technical knockout nod over Joey Carkido, 138, of Youngstown when the Ohioan failed to answer the bell for the 10th frame.

Irish Mickey Doyle, 160, Cleveland, climaxed a rousing scrap with Lou Valles, 161, New York, by winning a technical knockout verdict at 2:35 of the sixth.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
LOUISVILLE—Joe Discepoli, 134, Cincinnati, knocked out Paulie Davis, 138, Kansas City, 2.
CLEVELAND—Jimmy Bivins, 186, Cleveland, outpointed Pat Valentino, 183½, San Francisco, 10

The second boxing card of the year at the Friendly House, scheduled for next Tuesday, was beginning to take shape today with the listing of six three-round bouts.

Mike Wentz, promoter of the fights, revealed that he was attempting to sign headliners for the card and hoped to have arrangements complete by the end of the week.

Fremont Ross Flanker Hurt In Grid Session

FREMONT —(AP)— Tim Jones, 15-year-old Fremont Ross high school end hospitalized today with a ruptured kidney, was believed to be northern Ohio's first 1948 football casualty.

Hurt in a scrimmage with Toledo Central Catholic, his injury was relieved when he received a blood transfusion from his father, Chris.

Tyger Trackmen Battle Newark

Senior high school's track team will be after its third straight duel meet victory tomorrow when it engages the Newark Wildcats on the Stadium field cinders at 4 p. m.

The Tygers have won top-heavy victories over Ashland and Canton McKinley but may find Newark a bit tougher. Coach Paul Harlow's Wildcats have won one of two meets this season. The defeat was a close one at the hands of Columbus Central team which tied for second in the Mansfield Relays last Saturday.

Newark competitors placed in five events in the Relays to take 13th place. Don Smith, the Wildcat hurdles ace, placed in the highs and lows while Mansfield's Marty Bricker did not reach the finals. Bricker beat Smith last year in both "timber" events.

Dick Hartman, Newark, tied for second in the Mansfield Relays' pole vault and Bob McVey ran fifth in the 100. Tommy Tucker, of the Tygers, edged McVey in the 100 and beat his performance in the 220 and broad jump.

Newark took third place in the Relays' shuttle-hurdle, an event which will not be on the program tomorrow.

Gary Griffith will also give the Bengals trouble tomorrow. He won the 220 against the Tygers last year and also placed in the 100. Mansfield topped Newark, 74 to 41, in 1947.

Augie Morningstar, Senior high school football coach, announced this morning that Art Hartig, ninth grade back, suffered a broken ankle in spring football practice this week.

Morningstar said the ankle was broken Monday afternoon in a scrimmage between lads who did not compete in last Friday's game between the Varsity and Senior squads.

Senior high will wind up the spring grid grind with a practice game Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. The Tygers are still spending most of the time working on fundamentals.

Pauline Shively Slips Into N-J Women's Head Pin Van

Class B Women bowlers held the spotlight in The News-Journal head pin tournament last night as the standings were scrambled by much activity on the Richland Recreation alleys.

Pauline Shively emerged as the new Class B leader by virtue of her 272 series. She put together games of 91, 82, and 99 for her record - breaking effort. Seven strikes were included in the three games.

Other women bowlers who cut a fancy figure on the Richland alleys were Gladys Mace who moved into third place with a 223 and Lois Tescher who bettered the previous third-place mark by rolling a 218. Gladys finished with games of 92 and 85 after a 46 opener.

All other standings in the tourney remained the same as the list of contestants grew to 224.

Several Class A Women bowlers threatened marks of the leaders but failed to crash—the select three. They included Ruth Southworth who had 89-78, 98—263 and Martha Dye who rolled 58, 97, 107—262. Kay Stirtzinger was not too far behind with 75-80-85—240.

Hottest thing among league bowlers last night was Cliff Forsythe who rolls with Ringside in the Commercial B league at the Colony alleys. Forsythe appeared to be off to a record series as he started out with games of 228 and 234, but slipped (if you can call it that) to 176 in the finale for 638.

Horace Freeze, rolling with Dearman Transportation gets the orchid for being the most consistent bowler of the night, posting games of 215, 200 and 199 for a 614 series.

Dearman's Transportation built its league lead to three full games over Ace Cabs by winning three straight from Yunckers while Ace dropped two of three to Liederkranz.

★

One man beat "600" in the Transportation league. Ammeter turned a 618 series on games of 159, 231 and 228. George Percy's 236 was the highest single game of the evening.

Detroit Man Hits 299 Pins

DETROIT—(AP)—A grey-haired retired Detroit fire captain came within a single pin of firing a perfect game in the American bowling congress championship last night.

William Brooks posted a 299 while bowling with the Senate Bar team. He rolled 11 straight strikes but left the No. 10 pin standing on his final ball.

It was the 12th 299 score in the history of the classic, but only twice before has the count been marked up in the team rolling. There have been ten perfect games in singles and doubles competition since the first ABC classic 49 years ago.

Brooks' score in the last of his three team games was not enough to put him or his squad among the leaders.

Warriors Defeat Baltimore, 91-82

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The Philadelphia Warriors had a new lease on life today after staving off, at least temporarily, the title drive of the Baltimore Bullets in the Basketball Association of America playoffs.

The Warriors defeated the Bullets 91 to 82 at the Arena last night for their second win in the five playoff games played to date. The Bullets, with three wins, can clinch the title tonight in a game to be played at Baltimore.

Fogo Bares Political 'Gift' Policy, Denies Shakedown

Practice Not New, Claims Registrar

Highway Chief Denies Knowledge

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS — (AP) — State Highway Director Earl Reeb declared today that his registrar of motor vehicles could not solicit political donations from deputy registrars.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio's registrar of motor vehicles admits seeking political donations from deputy registrars, but denies any shakedown or compulsion.

What he did has been going on for 20 years, Edward T. Fogo said in a telephone interview from Fort Meade, Md. A major in the army reserve, he has been attending a selective service school since April 9.

Fogo said he appeared before several meetings of deputy registrars and told them contributions were expected to help finance political campaigns.

"There's nothing new in this," he added. "It's been going on for 20 years to my personal knowledge. There was no shakedown. No personal profit for anyone. I defy any man to say it's not been going on for years."

State Highway Director Earl Reeb, who is Fogo's boss, said he was not aware of the contribution requests.

"It's possible that these solicitations have been common practice, but I've never heard of them, and certainly I didn't know that has been going on."

Both Reeb and Fogo were appointed by Thomas J. Herbert, Ohio's Republican governor. Herbert was reported out of town.

CONTRIBUTIONS EXPECTED

Fogo said he told deputy registrars at various meetings "that it costs money to run political campaigns, and since they were children of politics, so to speak, they were expected to contribute."

"But I defy any man," he continued, "to say that I ever specified the amount of the contribution expected or told any one they had to contribute.

"And I never heard of any person ever being fired because he failed to contribute." Fogo added. "I have nothing to hide in this matter. There are such things as political contributions—everyone knows that."

"These were not assessments. There never have been any pressure put on—at least to my knowledge, there never was any pressure. What I said at meetings of deputy registrars was available to newspapers at all times. In fact, I recall several newspapermen attending meetings at which I made that 'children of politics' reference."

Fogo said when he left Columbus April 9 "only a very few" contributions had been received from deputy registrars. Asked if he contemplated resigning, Fogo replied:

"Maybe I'd be a lot better off if I did, and went into the army. However, I have not the slightest intention of resigning. I'm not guilty of anything—and the only reason I can think of for a man quitting under fire is that he is guilty of something."

Before Fogo made his statement, Reeb took official recognition of rumors that some deputy registrars were asked to "kick back" part of their 25-cent fee on each auto license plate sale. Reeb said he was asking auditors from the license bureau staff to report at his office tomorrow "so I can find what it's all about."

Wall Street Dealings Slow After Fast Morning Start

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market slanted irregularly lower today.

Dealings got off to another fast start, but occasional slowdowns followed. Under moderate selling pressure were rubbers and some other recently buoyant individual industrials.

Steel shares benefited from hopes for an early full resumption of coal mining operations. Profit-taking continued its heavy hand on many sections of the list. Some customers were reported by brokers to hold a cautious attitude in view of impending wage negotiations in some major industries.

Msgr. Goebel Honored

ments served by women of St. Peter's parish.

Msgr. Goebel completed his 25 years of service on March 15 but the celebration was postponed because the date came during Holy Week.

GREAT STRIDE MADE

Great strides have been made by St. Peter's parish under Msgr. Goebel's guidance. The new South Mulberry street grade school was built, a four-year high school course started, and the present rectory north of the church built. The grade school has an enrollment of 700 and the high school 225.

The male choir Msgr. Goebel organized in 1924 has become an oustanding musical organization of northern Ohio.

To encourage frequent Communion by school children, Msgr. Goebel introduced the morning cup of cocoa for school children who received Communion during mass and who carry their breakfast to school.

CHURCH DECORATED

The church was decorated in 1944 and 1945 by Artist John Bernat and as a result is regarded as one of the oustanding ecclesiastical structures in this part of the country. The church was consecrated in 1946 by Bishop Karl J. Alter of Toledo, who also led a three-day celebration of the 100th anniversary of St. Peter's.

Two years ago Msgr. Goebel announced an expansion plan for St. Peter's which calls for a new modern high school, and a new convent for the Sisters of St. Francis who teach in the schools.

High honors have come to Msgr. Goebel since he has been in Mansfield. On July 4, 1938, he was created a Domestic Prelate by Pope Pius XI and was invested as a Monsignor in Queen of the Most Holy Rosary Cathedral, Toledo, Ohio, on Sept. 28 of that year. He was also appointed dean of Richland and Crawford counties by Bishop Alter.

Former assistant priests present for the celebration include Rev. Robert V. O'Connor, Very Rev. M. J. Doyle, Rev. James F. Hebbeler, S.T.D., Rev. Joseph H. Inkrott, Rev. Walter T. Hanley, Rev. John H. Flynn, Rev. Michael J. Walz, Rev. James G. Dwyer, and Rev. Russell F. Gillig.

Rev. Kenneth Hans, son of Mrs. Adam Hans, Altamont avenue and now an assistant priest at the Cathedral in Toledo, Queen of the Most Holy Rosary, also came for the event.

Highway Workers, Engineers to Dine

Approximately 80 city and county engineers and highway workers are expected to attend a dinner meeting for the Richland County Highway Department Employes' club at 6:30 p. m. today at the Richland Recreation.

Main speaker for the event will be Fred Schneider of Columbus, secretary of the Public Employes' Retirement System.

Among the guests will be Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Service-Safety Director E. L. Morgan, and Street Supt. E. W. Davis.

Files Action For $4,420

Elverda M. Guenther, 136 West First street, was named defendant in an action for $4,420 yesterday in common pleas court, as the result of a traffic accident.

The plaintiff, Frank J. Slavik, Mt. Gilead, charges she was negligent when their cars collided April 19, 1946, at East Second and Adams streets.

Slavik asks $4,000 for personal injuries and $420 for car damages. Slavik is represented by Attorneys William A. Calhoun and Clifford H. Calhoun.

Bus Strike Truce Appears Possible

AKRON —(AP)— Withh a fare increase granted, a quick settlement of the city's 20-day bus strike today again appeared possible.

The new fare schedule will raise the price of tokens from four to three for 25 cents and add 25 cents to weekly passes now selling for $1.00 and $1.25. The boost agreed on by city officials and the Akron Transportation Co. apparently paved the way for a wage hike.

COUNCIL REVERSES STAND

HURON —(AP)— City council has reversed its decision to keep the town on standard time. After receiving letters and petitions of protest, councilmen passed a resolution to follow the lead of other cities switching to daylight saving time.

County Gets Offers On TB Bonds

Board Schedules Sale For Today

Richland county commissioners at noon today received bids from 13 bond firms and banks on all or part of the $700,000 in bonds voted for the new county tuberculosis sanatorium.

John Selby, chairman of the board of commissioners, said the bonds probably would be sold this afternoon.

Apparently the best offer was submitted by the Fahey, Clark and Company syndicate of Cleveland which offered 1½ per cent interest and a premium of $2,261.10 on the $700,000 worth of bonds.

Second best offer came from the Harris Trust company syndicate, Chicago, which bid 1½ per cent and offered a premium of $1,978.

Third was the Otis and Company syndicate, Cleveland, with an offer of 1½ per cent and premium of $1,969.

Bond representatives said interest cost to the county would be about 1.45 per cent for the average life of the bonds which will be about five and a half years.

Only Mansfield bidder was the Citizens National bank which asked 1 per cent interest and offered a $904 premium for the $300,000 issue only.

The county is expected to receive approval soon of a government grant of more than $100,000 to help equip the sanatorium. Plans for the sanatorium have been submitted to the federal government.

Wife Killed, Doctor Flees

WELCH, W. Va. —(AP)— A physician charged with killing his wife by pumping 12 bullets into her body was being hunted in the mountain section near this city today, police reported.

Prosecutor Richard Parsons, who said he charged Dr. W. R. Stevens with murder, declared no trace of the coal company doctor has been found so far.

Police conjectured, however, that the fugitive was on foot. He had turned over his automobile to a passerby.

Rhyming Talk Entertains Club

Extemporaneous rhyming provided novelty in the talk given by Robert Hall, internationally known entertainer, at Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary club, held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, with Harry Hollingsworth as program chairman.

Introduction of the names of various club members into the half-hour's address, with rhymed comment, provided pleasant entertainment.

Millard H. Pryor, club president, announced approval by the board of directors of revised constitution and by-laws to be submitted for adoption by members.

Dr. W. E. Wygant directed attention to the current campaign for funds to be used in the battle against cancer and spoke of increasing interest in the diagnostic clinics being conducted here and in other cities.

CURFEW TIME CHANGED

Galion Pushes Plan to Build YMCA-Community Center

GALION — Plans to establish and build a YMCA—Community Center in Galion were furthered at a meeting last night called by Kenneth M. Petri, temporary chairman of the newly elected board of trustees, for the purpose of appointing committees and naming four additional members of the board.

Meeting with Petri and the board was James Williams of Fostoria, field area representative.

Four more members appointed to the board of trustees are Dr. Martin Horowitz, Jay Nichols, Paul Nollen and Elmer Thatcher. This now brings the membership of the board to 20, with one more to be appointed. Sixteen members of the board were elected at a recent public meeting of citizens.

Presiding for the meeting, Petri named Miss Veronica Kelley to act as temporary secretary. Miss Margaret Loris gave a resume of initial plans made by the Galion Business and Professional Women's club toward the establishment of a "Y" or community center in Galion.

She was named chairman of a nominating committee to select a list of candidates for permanent officers of the board of trustees. Others named on this committee are Matthew Quay, Lawrence Bennett and Miss Kelley.

On the committee appointed to formulate a constitution, the following members are named: Marion E. Shank, chairman; Rev. Norman R. Somerville, Rose Seifert and Mrs. C. F. Boyd.

Williams addressed the group on the workings of a YMCA and conducted a questionnaire.

The board adjourned until May 4 at which time committees will report and an organization will be affected.

Rate Boost Is Proposed

GALION — Electric light rates appeared today to be headed upward.

Council, meeting last night, authorized the city solicitor to draft legislation proposing new rates for service from Galion's municipal light plant.

Service-Safety Director John F. Porter had recommended an increase.

Council also approved establishment of a position of captain in the fire department, approved erection of lights and rest rooms in East Side park, and authorized improvement of a number of city streets.

The fire captain, to be named by Mayor H. H. Hartmann, will receive a salary of $203 a month. City officials explained that the position was established to give the department a second head, similar to the police department where a chief and captain are employed.

Nomination Move Halted

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The White House Tuesday announced that President Truman was renominating members of the atomic energy commission for new terms but then recalled the announcement.

There was no immediate explanation for the sudden cancellation of plans to send to the Senate the nominations of Chairman David E. Lilienthal for a new five year term and his four fellow members for shorter terms.

As first announced by Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman was nominating Sumner T. Pike for a new four year term; Lewis L. Strauss for three years; William W. Waymack for two years and Robert F. Bacher for one year.

All of the new terms would have begun Aug. 1.

$659 Reported In Cancer Drive

Contributions to the third cancer fund drive in Mansfield have reached a total of $659, it was reported today at campaign headquarters. The drive opened Monday and will continue until April 30.

A goal of $24,000 was set for the drive. This money will be used to enlarge clinical work and to aid in cancer research in Mansfield.

Two hundred and 40 cancer coin boxes have been placed in Mansfield business establishments. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn has issued a proclamation urging all citizens to help in the drive. Richard Wolford is campaign chairman.

Police Join Hunt For Missing Woman

Police began a search today for Miss Thelma Ruth Cook, 24, who disappeared from her rooming house at 221 Glessner avenue Friday night.

Assistance in the search was sought by the young woman's mother, Mrs. James Clark of Marion who told police her daughter came to Mansfield three weeks ago to work at a local plant.

Miss Cook was described as five feet three inches tall, weighing 140 pounds and wearing either a red suit or green coat.

Galionites Ask For New City Rule

Council-Manager Form Under Study

GALION — Organization of an executive board to function as a guiding group for the promotion of a council-manager form of government in Galion took place this week at a meeting of representatives of civic and service organizations of the city.

Woodrow W. Crissinger, a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was named chairman of the board. He has been active in the movement.

Others chosen to serve with him are: vice president, Attorney George W. Coble; secretary-treasurer, C. Floyd King; additional members to complete the board, Mrs. Harvey C. Huy, Orville Allen and Mrs. M. D. Bonsteel.

The newly organized board later will be expanded to include representatives of all city groups. The organization will conduct a campaign to familiarize Galion citizens with the advantages of the plan of government.

The group hopes to present a city manager charter for a vote at the November election. Plans also were made to employ speakers and circulate literature to fully explain the operation of the city manager system.

Two Schools Will Observe Arbor Day

Bushnell, Appleseed Plan Friday Programs

Bushnell grade school will observe Arbor Day Friday afternoon with a conservation program planned and presented by the fifth grade. The program will consist of an explanation of why we have Arbor Day, poems, and skits.

Johnny Appleseed Junior High school students will head an Arbor Day radio skit over the loudspeaker Friday morning. Other Mansfield schools will observe the day, but have planned no special program.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert proclaimed April 25 as Arbor Day, the week of April 19 to 23 as Conservation Week and the month of April as Conservation Month in Ohio schools.

The first Arbor Day in America was observed in Nebraska in 1876, and Ohio first celebrated Arbor Day at Cincinnati in 1882 after a suggestion by the American Forestry Congress. This year some 4,000 schools in Ohio will observe the day.

Today Arbor Day is celebrated in every state and territory. The schools have been the strongest factor in this movement, but the G.A.R., the Grange, civic improvement associations, Women's clubs, forestry associations, and other conservations groups have also taken part.

Until recently, Arbor Day was set by law by the governor. At present the naming of Arbor Day by the governor is a voluntary proclamation in connection with the naming of April as conservation month and one week of that month as conservation week in Ohio schools.

John L. Lewis Is Not Above the Law

WITHHOLDING of a prison sentence as a part of the penalty imposed on John L. Lewis for contempt of court gives the impression of recognizing the likelihood of continued rebellion by mine workers if their chief were jailed.

Fines assessed against Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union followed government recommendations, according to Judge Goldsborough, who indicated "individual judgment" in favor of a prison sentence.

Insofar as John L. Lewis personally is concerned, it would appear that a period of imprisonment would be entirely proper, but it must also be taken into account that this would place him in a martyr role, in the eyes of many of his followers, and would really accomplish little toward the main objective of determining whether Lewis, or any other individual or organized group, is subject to the law of the land.

In this instance, as in others, Lewis flouted the law in ways that worked to the detriment of millions of people. Coal is an essential fuel in many industrial and transportation operations, as well as for widespread home use, and anything that retards its normal production quickly becomes a serious handicap to the national economy as a whole.

A significant fact is that, in bringing about the work stoppage of 400,000 coal miners—as he obviously did—Lewis claimed the privilege of not only ignoring the general welfare but also of defying a court ruling designed to protect the national interest, under act of Congress.

Such conduct cannot be tolerated under the processes of orderly government—in fact it makes a mockery of government by law and, if tolerated, might quickly bring a state of anarchy in which each individual or group would feel free to disregard any laws which provide restraints deemed necessary for protection of a majority as well as guarding the rights of minorities.

Through provisions of the Taft-Hartley law it is hoped to bring improvements in labor-management relations which will make it possible to resolve controversies without resort to strikes, and their resultant hardships, but in order to bring about this accomplishment it will be necessary to rule out the rule-or-ruin policies of such dictators as John L. Lewis and for other labor leaders to recognize that obedience to law is essential to the preservation of self government.

Candidate Tries Another 'Stunt'

ONE candidate for state office, who is addicted to "stunts," has hit upon the idea of enclosing a $1 bill with his press releases to weekly newspapers. "It is not my idea," he said in an accompanying note, "that the dollar will cover the cost of printing my releases, but it was meant to indicate that I understand you have expenses, and I want to help in some small way."

On which the Ohio State Journal makes editorial comment: "The candidate might have saved himself the trouble, the money and the explanation. News space in Ohio weekly and daily newspapers is not for sale, even as a stunt. They will print legitimate news whenever, in their judgment, it is news, although shortage of space often compels them to leave out some news they would like to print. The candidate has found out that they cannot be bought, even in part, either as a joke or a stunt."

The idea of using some form of bribery to influence the handling of news—either to gain publicity or to prevent publication of a news item—is of ancient origin and comes within the experience of practically all persons having authority in connection with the publication of a newspaper.

Sometimes it is as picayunish as the $1 bill enclosed by the candidate mentioned above—sometimes it mounts to impressive figures, as when racketeers seek newspaper silence regarding their operations—but always the answer of reputable newspapers, and their employes, is the same —"THIS NEWSPAPER CANNOT BE 'BOUGHT' FOR FURTHERANCE OF ANY SELFISH INTERESTS." however alluring the offer may seem to those who make it.

Neighbors Resume An Old Practice

MORE THAN local interest has been attracted by recital of the story of how a bed-ridden farmer in the vicinity of Lexington was helped by neighbors who took care of the spring planting which he was unable to do because of illness.

It seems not so many years ago when such things were sufficiently common practice to excite little comment—in fact they were taken for granted—but now, it appears, such exhibitions of friendliness and neighborly interest are so unusual as to justify widespread publicity.

What are known as "the complexities of modern civilization" may account for the changed attitude toward uncompensated help in time of need, but it may be wondered if some of the joys of living have not been lost in the process.

Where Dictators Control Elections

CZECHOSLOVAKIA will hold elections late in May. There will be one ballot, a single list of candidates, all approved by the Communist party. Even former non-communist groups, such as the Social Democrats, have given "enthusiastic approval" of the slate. Their leader, deposed by the communists a few weeks ago, has returned to his post, "recognizing his former mistakes" in opposing communism.

If any American citizen needs convincing proof that the communist ideology is a dictatorial one, let him consider these plans for Czechoslovakia's voting day. Why do party leaders bother to go through the form of balloting? Probably the answer is that when the votes are counted, they can proclaim to the world the "overwhelming support" given by the people to their regime.

Researchers are still puzzled over whether or not apes can reason—and the apes may entertain similar doubts about people.

Claude Callan observes: "There are so many laws now that nearly all of us are obeying some of them."

What Some Other People Are Saying

MARK ETHERIDGE, publisher of the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal: "The United Nations is back for a short time in the old power political game. If the European Recovery Plan works it will be the best thing that could happen to the U.N."

SEN. BRIDGES (R-NH): "The ever increasing communist threat gives Congress no choice but to approve a 70-group air force without dispatch as a spearhead to secure America's position in a threatened world."

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Britain To Try Ban on Death Penalty

ENGLAND, after a mighty struggle with her conscience over long generations, finally has decided through the medium of her house of commons to abolish capital punishment for murder during a trial period of five years.

The vote for this notable experiment — 245 to 222 — came after a dramatic seven-hour debate over the question of whether to hang or not to hang —a penalty which has been exacted for some 800 years.

The verdict represented a defeat for government views, though it wasn't a political reverse, since the Labor (socialist) government had given the rank and file of its party the privilege of voting as they saw fit, and even permitted members with minor ministerial posts to abstain.

The conservatives, whose leaders were against abolishment, also split and thus the issue became non-partisan, with socialists and conservatives voting according to their personal leanings. It was a remarkable event. The measure still must go through other stages in Commons and must pass the House of Lords, but the government already has accepted it as law by reprieving two men who were about to go to the gallows for murder. They have received life sentences.

In the debate the government fought the measure on the grounds that it was essential for the protection of society and that abolishment would increase homicides. Advocates replied with humanitarian arguments and a particularly cogent point was made by Socialist R. T. Paget, who cited cases in which innocent people had been hanged.

"Only God and the accused know the real truth," he declared.

* * *

Long Consideration.

THIS isn't the first time, by any means, that an effort has been made in commons to do away with hanging for homicide—a move, by the way, which doesn't affect the death penalty for treason, sabotage of the royal dockyards and piracy. Previously, however, the government has beaten down the proposal with its plea of necessity.

Renewal of the proposal now was, I suspect, partly a psychological reaction to all the bloodshed and hatreds which have attended the World war. The impulse was humanitarian and undoubtedly religion entered into it strongly, for England still remembers the commandment: "Thou shalt not kill." The London Daily Graphic summed the debate up like this:

"The British idea of justice, founded not on punishment but on mercy, shone through all the arguments in the House, and those who disagree with the verdict should draw satisfaction from the fact that in a world of relaxed standards Britain keeps her principles high."

The plea about the danger of a miscarriage of justice is a powerful one, since mistakes do happen in trials and an error can't very well be repaired after the condemned has taken the six-foot drop. So far as Britain is concerned, her mistakes probably have been very few in modern times, for my observation is that justice maintains a very even balance, and I've seen numerous murder trials there.

The accused is surrounded with far more protection than is provided in most countries. For example, it is forbidden for the prosecution to mention any previous misdeeds of the prisoner at the bar.

He may have been convicted of all sorts of crimes but none of them may be cited until after the verdict is given. Then the judge may reveal the facts in event of conviction. And no newspaper or other publication may mention the previous sins of the accused during the current trial.

However, once a person has been convicted of murder the execution follows quickly—generally about three weeks. Appeals are handled speedily. Thus if by any chance the accused has been wrongly convicted, it's just too bad for him.

Timely Editorial

Spare the Holy Places.

Why not make Jerusalem an open city and take it out of the Arab-Jewish conflict?

Jerusalem is filled with shrines and monuments precious to Christian, Mohammedan and Jew. Its very streets are hallowed to the faithful members of each of these religions.

Today's battles are not the first to be fought in the vicinity of the Holy City. But since the time of the Roman Emperor Titus, who razed the temple of Solomon, Jerusalem's holy places have been spared. Warring armies have respected this holy ground.

Recently, however, shells from Arab guns fell in Jerusalem. They should be sufficient warning to the rest of the world that action should be taken now if these landmarks of religion are to be protected.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Vinson Engineered Vote For Air Force

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—No legislative battle in recent years has witnessed so much backstage wire-pulling and so much crimson on one cabinet member's face as the row over whether the U. S. A. should be defended by 70 air groups.

Ironically, the man who finally engineered the overwhelming 343-to-3 House vote for a big air force was the Navy's best friend in Congress —hard-as-nails Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia.

The veteran Democrat not only browbeat the measure through the House, but outfoxed Secretary of Defense Jim Forrestal every step of the way. Finally, Vinson even performed the miracle of winning penny-pinching John Taber, chairman of the appropriations committee, over to a 70-group air force.

Here is the amazing, behind-the-scenes story:

For years as chairman of the House naval affairs committee, Vinson has gone down the line for the Navy. He was their best friend in Congress. But three weeks ago Vinson deserted the Navy, insisted upon hearing the Air Force's story simultaneous with arguments for the draft and universal training.

Afterward, Georgia Democrat Vinson huddled with Texas Democrat Lyndon Johnson, another Navy man now an air advocate, and the two scrawled a resolution on the back of an office memo, calling for a 70-group air force. Next day they hammered this resolution through the armed services committee by a 23-to-0 vote.

* * *

Muzzling Symington.

HOWEVER, when Secretary for Air Stuart Symington appeared before the committee, Chairman Walter Andrews, New York Republican, warned him not to mention 70 groups. He must only testify regarding the draft and UMT, Andrews instructed. Andrews was elected to Congress by the people of Buffalo, N. Y., next door to the congressional district of Symington's father-in-law, G. O. P. Jim Wadsworth of Geneseo, N. Y. Nevertheless Andrews did not want Symington to talk.

"Wait a minute," snorted Vinson. "We don't want any censorship."

The secretary for air, he claimed, had a right to say what he wished. Finally Andrews gave in. As a result, Symington was able to deliver his sensational warning that Russia is building planes 12 times faster than the U. S. A.

This enraged Symington's boss, Secretary of Defense Forrestal. Actually Forrestal had taken sides with the admirals and did his best to sabotage Symington's testimony.

First he sent an appeal to Vinson, urging him to come over to his office in the Pentagon building at once. They had been close allies in fighting for a powerful two-ocean navy, and Forrestal hoped to appeal to Vinson's old Navy loyalty.

But the leathery Georgian was in no mood to back down. He went to see Forrestal, but he brought along two close friends —Congressman Lyndon Johnson and Paul Kilday, both Texas Democrats. Johnson had served in the Navy during the war and helped to straighten out Army-Navy rivalries.

Forrestal was cordial but insistent. Referring to the congressmen as "air seamen," he complained that they had gone back on him, urged that they delay their proposal for a 70-group air force until he got a report from the joint chiefs of staff.

"We have been getting reports on this for three years," snapped Vinson. He reminded Forrestal that 18 months ago, General Eisenhower had testified that the air force should not be allowed to fall below 70 groups.

"Eisenhower," said Vinson bluntly, "is enough chief of staff for me."

* * *

Soft-Soaping Taber.

AFTER failing with Vinson, Forrestal next tried to soft-soap nickel-nursing Appropriations Chairman Taber who usually can't see beyond a dollar sign. Forrestal's arithmetic easily convinced Taber that 70 air groups would cost money, and he promptly started to prune down the Air Force appropriations bill. The $922,000,000 necessary for the 70-group program was omitted.

Scarcely had Taber reported the bill out of committee, however, than Vinson called in Johnson and Kilday.

"Forrestal has pulled the rug out from under the Air Force," he announced. "Now we'll have to pull the rug out from under Forrestal. We've got the votes but Forrestal has Taber. All we have to do is get Taber.

That same afternoon Vinson buttonholed Taber. If Taber would support a 70-group Air Force, Vincon said that he would back an economy measure to trim the procurement costs by $100,000,000. This could be done by reinvoking the wartime clause which gave the Air Force authority to renegotiate profits. In other words, if a manufacturer was able to produce a cheaper plane than estimated, the Air Force could re-examine the contract and cut excess profits.

Taber called in Symington, asked whether he could get along on $822,000,000 for 70 groups. The youthful air secretary, however, said that $922,000,000 was the rock-bottom figure. Next morning Vinson himself called Symington, described the plan to renegotiate profits. Symington then agreed to do his utmost to keep within the $822,000,000 figure.

So an amendment was offered, raising the plane procurement fund by $822,000,000 for a 70-group Air Force.

Believe it or not, but the author of the amendment was Taber, himself.

'Truce' Would Be Futile

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON —The memory of a thousand pogroms can be a powerful morale factor in battle—a point which the people at Lake Success might take into consideration as they consider emergency action to halt the bloodshed in Palestine.

(A pogrom), according to Webster, is "A riot against Jews or other class in Russia." True, it started there, but it has come to mean much more and in many other places since. Now, it stands for the slaughter of unarmed, captive masses of a race or a class.)

Last week, the United Nations security council ordered an immediate halt to the Palestine fighting. In view of the circumstances, use of the verb "ordered" was both a futile and an unfortunate choice on the council's part.

For one thing, subsequent dispatches from the Middle East indicated that the Arab countries are intensifying their aid to forces in the Holy Land, rather than halting it. And Jewish leaders, both in New York and Palestine, made it clear that they felt the cease-fire order would not be effective.

For another thing, neither the United Nations as a group or its security council have given any past proof that they are prepared to carry out any such "orders." And certainly, their previous record on the Palestine situation has raised grave doubts as to whether they are capable even of maintaining a consistent stand on the subject.

("In the long run, we'll have to stand on our own," the young Haganah leader said, a few short weeks ago. "They'll talk at Lake Success, but we'll have to manufacture our own defense.")

As a result, any thought that the Jews in Palestine today are going to lay down their arms, until guaranteed that they will not be immediately subjected to slaughter, is patently ridiculous.

And, at the moment, it would seem that any idea that the United Nations security council could provide such a guarantee is equally ridiculous.

("There are men in many ranks who remember pogroms in Russia, in Germany, in Poland—not to mention those going on nowadays in some of the middle-European countries," the young Haganah leader said. "Either they witnessed them, or their friends or relatives did. And those who survived will never be caught unarmed and defenseless again. You can count on that!")

* * *

Only a Breathing Spell.

TRUE, the security council did not suggest that everybody in Palestine be disarmed, but a glance at the map and the headlines shows why such a "truce" would not be a truce to the Jews—unless bulwarked by the full diplomatic and economic force of the United Nations.

Theoretically, there would be no more smuggling of arms or fighting men into Palestine while the truce lasted. Theoretically—but no one who knows the Palestine situation believes that such a theory could now be transformed into fact. Both sides, fearing the end of the truce, would take advantage of the breathing spell to strengthen themselves as much as possible.

Already from Cairo has come reports that Kink Abdullah has released a part of his trans-Jordan Arab legion to fight with the Arabs in Palestine. And unquestionably the Jews are seeking reinforcements.

("When humans find the cards stacked to prevent them from living well," the Haganah officer said, "the only dignity they have left is to seek to die well. It is difficult to die well when you are herded like cattle to the slaughter pens. If we must die again, we will die fighting.")

If the people at Lake Success remember the pogroms, they will provide Palestinians with proof that their truce plans are not phoney—or else not propose them!

Washington Calling

Inflation Still Disturbs

By MARQUIS CHILDS

TEN DAYS ago the President's Council of Economic Advisers issued a report that was almost lost sight of in the swirl of headlines over Colombia, Russia, Berlin and other distant danger points. But that neglected report called attention to some danger points right here at home.

While economists are inclined to use judicious language, avoiding any suggestion of the sensational, it is not necessary to read between the lines of this report to understand the deep concern it expresses.

Essentially it is another warning of the threat of the blaze of inflation.

Because the council's warning was ignored, President Truman decided to make inflation, with its imminent peril to the nation's economy, the theme of his speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He used much more blunt language than the cautious economic councillors.

Congress, the report points out in a strictly factual way, is engaged in putting more fuel on the inflation bonfire. A large part of this spending is rated as essential by the administration as part of the defense program. But it all stokes the fire.

On top of the $5,300,000,000 foreign recovery program, the House has approved an expanded aviation program to cost $3,200,000,000. On top of this will be the cost of an expanded Army and Navy, the manpower to be provided by a renewal of selective service.

At the same time, the blithe spirits in Congress voted a tax cut that will mean a loss of nearly $5,000,000,000 in revenue. In their earlier reports, the council points out, they had assumed that this would not happen. Apparently no one has told the learned doctors that it is an election year.

So the flame of inflation flares out and it sears millions who are caught within its reach. The average householder is discovering that the basic things at the bottom of the pyramid are going up.

What to do about it? The council proposes certain controls which would help to check the wildest scramble for scarce commodities. ". . . ordinary prudence," says the report, "requires that increased attention be given to perfecting a system of allocations, priorities and export and domestic use limitations which would build up adequate stockpiles and safeguard production under the defense plan against bottlenecks and breakdowns."

In other words, we must be willing to accept a minor degree of self-discipline in order to keep the house from being burned down. The key to control is above all in metals, and especially steel, which today brings in the gray or black market two or three times the list price.

* * *

A TOUCHY question in an election year, the way in which such controls should be applied has been anxiously debated inside the administration. A first step would probably be to prevent any more steel from going into the manufacture of oil and gas furnaces. The burden on the country's natural gas and oil supply is already strained to the breaking point.

The next step might be to restrict the use of steel for natural gas pipe lines. Consumers would not directly feel such restrictions.

Fairly soon, however, it would be necessary to get down to the automobile industry, which consumes vast quantities of steel. Then you would hear a yell from the public.

Consistently President Truman has argued the need for a minimum of controls. When he appeared before the Senate foreign relations committee, Bernard M. Baruch presented a comprehensive defense program which included essential controls here at home.

There is no sign that Congress intends to take the minimum steps necessary to keep the fire in check. No one likes to put on those curbs, especially at a time when the voters are conscious of what government is doing. But doing nothing also has its risks, and in this instance, very great risks.

Secretaries Entertain

"Prospective Members Night" was observed Tuesday evening by members of the National Secretaries with a dinner party in the clubroom of the Mansfield Leland Hotel. Three guests, Miss Florence Case, Mrs. Sally Foster and Mrs. Betty Thompson, were in attendance.

Miss Mary O'Donnell, president, was in charge of the meeting at which time resolutions were discussed to be carried to the national convention scheduled for June 24-27 in Los Angeles, Calif.

The program period was given to Mrs. Della Buckley, who spoke on "The Art of Makeup". The next meeting will take place May 18 at the hotel clubroom.

Unusual Sealed Program Given For Mansfield Sorosis Club

The annual spring luncheon and a unique sealed program marked the close of the club year for the Mansfield Sorosis club when 25 members and a guest met in the Women's Club Tuesday evening. Mrs. C. M. Hartman was the guest.

The tables in the dining room were centered with large arrangements of sweetpeas, roses and mums. The drawing room was decorated with bouquets of spring blossoms.

Mrs. W. Frank Wilson, hostess, also was program chairman and she introduced five girls from Miss Martha Eckert's Senior high school speech class. The first reading was "Mama's Bank Account" from "I Remember Mama" by Miss Nancy Osbun.

A short playlet from "Letters" was presented by Miss June Zaebst, Miss Bernice Bauer and Miss Marilyn Beattie. Miss Marjorie Selby read a portion of "The Doll House."

The balance of the program was provided by recordings of previous Sorosis meetings. Among the records played was one cut during the Jan. 19, 1943 meeting. It included a "History of the Club" by Miss Bertha Ruess and an original club poem by Miss Sophia Ruess.

A talk by Mis. John Angle was included on the record. She stated that the Mansfield Sorosis club had given the Women's Club its first gift. She also remarked that the club had included in its membership, during its many years, a large number of Mansfield's outstanding women.

The program was closed with a record cut recently by Miss Bertha Ruess of "The Vision of Sir Launfal."

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. LeRoy McGinty, club president. The group voted to present a gift of money to the clubhouse.

All officers who have served during the past year were re-elected for the 1948-49 season. They include Mrs. McGinty, president; Mrs. George Hout, vice president; Mrs. H. D. Bishop, secretary; Mrs. Earl Paxton, treasurer, and Mrs. Ambrose Middleton, historian.

Mrs. McGinty appointed the following members to serve on the program committee: Mrs. P. B. Pecht, Mrs. W. H. Gifford, Mrs. George Ganyard and Mrs. R. M. Beatty.

The club's summer picnic is scheduled for Aug. 3 at the McGinty cabin at Mifflin Lake. Mrs. W. E. Wygant is chairman of the affair and her committee includes Mrs. Bessie Albright and Mrs. L. D. Bower.

Columbus Lady Loses 24 Lbs. and 8 Inches at Waistline

"I am 29 years of age," writes Mrs. G. R. Thomas, 331 E. Long St., Columbus, Ohio, "and before taking Rennel Concentrate was entirely too fat for my age. I have lost 24 lbs. with this wonderful reducer and my waistline went from 34 to 26. Everyone that knew me when I was heavy can't get over how I look now. I feel that Rennel has made a 100% improvement."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel. —Adv.

Eternal Triangle: Old Story Involves Husband, Best Friend

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A correspondent who says that she has been married for 25 years, and for 24 of them was perfectly happy, now has a sadly different story to tell.

"My husband and I always went around with another couple," she writes, "and about a year ago the husband of the other woman died. Shortly after that I noticed that my own husband began acting strangely toward me. Whenever this woman friend came to see me, my husband would take her home, and it was always very late before he returned When I asked him about this, he put me off, so finally I went to see her. She broke down and confessed that she and my husband had been having an affair, and that she was in love with him. She promised me that she would not break up my home, and would try to break off with my husband.

"I told my husband what she had said and then he admitted the whole thing, but said he wouldn't give her up. He says if I give up her friendship and don't ask her to go out with us, he will leave me.

"I can't move away because I own my home. I would love to forgive and forget, but I know it will be hard to do."

It is a pretty shocking thing when a husband suggests that his wife not only should tolerate his extra-marital affairs but help them along by cultivating the friendship of the woman in the case. No wife should agree to any such arrangement for a minute, and no wife with proper self-respect will do so

Of course, if this wife refuses to play the role her husband is trying to force on her, it is quite obvious that he will make his own arrangements to see the woman whenever he pleases, having said flatly that he doesn't intend to give her up. Under those circumstances, the wife has the choice of sitting tight and taking it, hoping that in time her patience will be rewarded and he will tire of his romance, or of refusing to accept his terms and leaving him.

If she decides to stay, however, she should make up her mind to keep her mouth shut, hard as it will be. For nagging and scolding will never get her anywhere, nor will crying and pleading.

It is possible, of course, that the "other woman" may be decent enough to do as she has promised and break the thing off herself, thus solving the whole problem. It would be much better if the husband had the decency to do this himself, but apparently he hasn't.

Walter Lippmann Speaks

U. S. Needs Intelligent Statesmanship

After testifying in a secret session of a congressional committee, Admiral Hillenkoetter, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, allowed himself to be interviewed in order to show that he had warned the state department of the Bogota uprising. This would not have been edifying even if the admiral had proved his case. But in fact his own evidence disproves his case.

The key intelligence dispatch, dated March 23, which he says was withheld from the State Department by a representative of the department in Bogota said: "Have confirmed that Communist-inspired agitators will attempt to humiliate the secretary of state and other members of the United States delegation to the Pan-American conference upon arrival in Bogota by manifestations and possible personal molestation."

No attempt was made to humiliate the secretary of state; there were no manifestations against the secretary of state upon his arrival in Bogota, and he has not been subjected to personal molestation.

The fact is that what Admiral Hillenkoetter predicted did not happen, and what did happen was not predicted by Admiral Hillenkoeter.

A "warning" that Secretary Marshall was going to be molested can hardly be construed as a warning that there was going to be an uprising against the Colombian government.

It was like the warning that there was going to be Japanese sabotage at Pearl Harbor which led Gen. Short to take measures against something which did not happen rather than against that which actually did happen.

It seems reasonably certain, not only from the uprising in Colombia but from the condition of the conference before it was interrupted, that the administration, though it had warning of trouble, had not made a successful diagnosis of the trouble. It seems to have fixed its attention on the "Communist-inspired agitators" and not on the deep and violent popular unrest which was boiling up just under the surface.

While an intelligence agency can serve a government, it is not a device for relieving statesmen of the task of judging correctly and wisely the course of events.

It is a mistake to expect, and foolish of Admiral Hillenkoetter to talk as if we had a right to expect, the Central Intelligence agency to appraise the situation in Colombia and South America. That was the business of the president and Admiral Leahy, of Secretary Marshall and Mr. Armour, after they had studied Admiral Hillenkoetter's reports and the state department's reports. To suppose that an intelligence agency can make these final judgments is in effect to say that the intelligence agency could be not only the eyes and the ears, but also the brains of the government.

There never was, and there never will be, such an intelligence agency.

FACTS TWISTED TO FIT

The aftermath of the Bogota explosion shows that it could not have been easy to foresee. For even by hindsight there is as yet no convincing and consistent story of what happened. That may be due in large measure to the censorship. But I suspect it may also be due to something else, something subtler and more misleading.

The stereotyped assumption that all discontent is Communist-inspired, that all discontent emanates from Moscow, will, if we persist in holding to it, be as fatal to our hopes and policies as it is contrary to our traditions and our genius.

The experts go overboard "This time it's Hudson the only car you step down into!"

AN auto-wise Detroit editor writes, "Hudson . . . will still be in a sellers' market after the buyers' market returns!" A Cleveland motor-car writer, "The public is in for a thrill!" From a San Francisco auto editor's column, "Hudson has really hit the jackpot!"

And so it goes—right around the nation! Men who have "seen everything" in automobiles go for the New Hudson.

It is the only American-built motor car you step down into when entering, not up on! This new development brings you sensational advantages—among them, newly streamlined beauty that would otherwise be impractical.

This new kind of motor car is only five feet from ground to top, yet by stepping down, you get more head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car built today—and there's good road clearance, too!

Because you step down, Hudson's new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged, box-steel foundation frame—and this brings you a new measure of added safety.

You ride within this frame—cradled between axles—not on top of a frame as in the past. Hudson's new, lower center of gravity and rugged basic structure give this car delightful roadability—a hug-the-road way of going, especially on curves, that is so safe, so serene, so smooth, it is unlike anything you've known before!

See the new motor car the experts cheer. The nearest Hudson dealer will show it to you now! Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14. *Trade-mark and patents pending
